ELK' GRAND BALL BRILLIANT SUCCESS

The Elks' Ball proved a signal success—the most briallliant and pleasurable social event given in Sonoma in many a month, in fact, for years.

More than two hundred and fifty couple assembled in Union Hall, Saturday night, the many pretty maids and handsome matrons, beautifully gowned, having a fitting setting in the background of richly tinted autumn leaves, which were festooned on every side and hung from the ceiling. The stage was especially suggestive of Elkdom—having been converted into a veritable forest, a paddock, as it were, with log-wood fence, and the head of a magnificent elk, standing out prominently amidst the luxuriant growth, commanding attention and admiration. The decorations were harmonious, effective and original and Dr. W. B. Hayes, who planned and directed this feature of the affair, was highly complimented and showered with congratulations. Dr. Hayes had valuable and unflagging assistance in his Brother Elks, Messrs. "Dal" Emperan, J. A. Kinsella, and S. B. Lewis, and all of these gentlemen are in turn deeply indebted to and very appreciative of the help given them by several lady friends, among whom were: Mesdames H. J. Wicker, Carrie H. Burlingame, R. L. Watt, L. V. Emparan and Pauline McMullin.

The floor was ably managed by Wm. Clewe, who had efficient assistants in Messrs. J. A. Picetti, J. A. Kinsella and "Dal" Emparan. The capable reception committee comprised Messrs. H. F. Bates, L. Lamotte and H. W. Gottenberg.

The music by the Fitzgerald Orchestra, of San Francisco, was par excellence—so delightful, as a matter of fact, that the charmed devotees of Terpsichore could not get enough of it, and not until "four o'clock in the morning" did the happy throng disperse, voting the Elks very truly to be "the Best People on Earth."

A large number of out-of-town people were present at the ball, enjoying it to the fullest. Among others were:

"Bob" McKeown and Al Crozier, of San Francisco, who were guests of "Dal" Emparan.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Green entertained Miss Hazel Gies of San Francisco, and Misses Kate and Mae Watt and their brother Jack of Oakland.

Editor and Mrs. H. H. Granice had as their guest Mrs. Katharine Becker, a handsome society matron of San Francisco.

Frank B. Singley, of Petaluma, was cordially greeted by his host of friends.

Dr. Frank Phillips, candidate for coroner and public administrator, and James Ramage, candidate for treasurer, undoubtedly won many votes by their gallant attentions to the fair sex.

Exalted Ruler Ellis and Dr. Morris (brother of candidate for the Assembly popular Ed Morris) were among the Petaluma Elks present.

County Assessor J. P. Berry, who came down for the occasion, was at somewhat of a disadvantage with the ladies, as he does not not dance. However, he brought a very popular substitute for the ballroom, in his son Frank.

CATHOLIC FETE CLOSES TONIGHT

The ladies of St. Francis' Catholic Church were actively at work during the past week and yesterday completing arrangements for the Hallowe'en Festival, which opened at Union Hall, last night and continues this (Saturday) afternoon and evening.

Dancing and an entertaining program will be the methods of amusement for both evenings, and a very charming little matinee performance, to be given by the children this afternoon, has been arranged by the Presentation Sisters. There is to be no admission charge for the afternoon entertainment, as this is for the special pleasure of the children.

While a number of handsome articles are to be raffled, including a china dinner set, gentleman's scarf pin, etc., yet the articles, for the most part, are practical and worth while.

Many tickets have already been sold on the valuable waterproof auto robe, the generous gift of City Trustee George Breitenbach. The owners of autos are reminded that a chance to win this desirable acquisition remains open until the close of the Festival tonight.

A general good time is in store for all who attend this celebration of the favorite Hallowe'en Festival.

An admission fee of twenty-five cents will be charged each evening.

CRUZAN NOT A PROHIBITIONIST

TO THE VOTERS: When you receive your sample ballots, you will find that I have received the Prohibition nomination for member of the Assembly in the 13th district. Believing that I am a victim of the workings of the present primary law, I am taking the opportunity of expressing my sentiments on Amendment No. 2. I am unalterably opposed to the measure, and am doing and shall do all in my power to defeat it. The Prohibition nomination came to me unsolicited; twenty-three persons, unknown to me having written my name in as their candidate. I am not in sympathy with the movement and wish to correct the error that has arisen through a primary law which forces upon a candidate a nomination he does not seek and does not want.

Yours respectfully,
D. E. CRUZAN,
Candidate Member Assembly, 13th District.

Yours, Elsie Elton

Salisbury visited this burg the fore part of the week, it is well-known that Mr. Salisbury is a candidate for the office of Assemblyman from this district, and after his visit here and the favorable impression that he left on the voters here, it is almost a sure thing that he will be our next Assemblyman.

Mr. Thomas B. McNamara, our popular county surveyor, has been quite busy here the past few days straightening out the road between El Verano and Verano. This will be a big improvement and will do away with the dangerous curve upon which a number of bad accidents have occurred. Voters don't forget this popular and efficient official next Tuesday.

ADALINE

Baby Life Called Back.

The unalloyed happiness of parenthood came to Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Rowell, Monday evening, in the birth of a son, with whom the tiny spark of life fluttered briefly, and then was gone, banishing the gladness and leaving a weight of sorrow in the hearts, which had thrilled so happily with welcome. Alas, the pity of it!—the yearning of motherhood for the bitter-sweet blossoms, that are held but for a day and missed for a lifetime. A host of friends extend deep sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Rowell, and are rejoiced to know that the condition of the young mother—who is at the Broadway Sanitarium—is somewhat improved, at this writing.

A Son Blesses Haven Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Haven are receiving the congratulations of their host of friends on the advent of a son, at the Sonoma Valley Sanitarium, Monday, Oct. 26. Miss Rowena, the prize Sonoma baby girl, will undoubtedly be quite willing to share honors with her very welcome baby brother.

The Primary Law and How It Should Be Amended.

Jo V. SNYDER, the Democratic nominee for Lieutenant-Governor of California, is receiving the support of thousands of Republicans throughout the State. One of these is Mayor H. H. Rose, of Los Angeles, who recently declared: "We all appreciate the fact that Eshelman stole a place on the Republican ticket and was nominated because thousands of voters did not know he was not a Republican. Down South we dont believe the Eshelman vote indicates a victory for Johnson. We are confident that it will have nothing to do with the outcome of the Governorship fight in November. Many Republicans, myself included, will not vote for Eshelman. We intend to vote for Jo V. Snyder, Democratic nominee for Lieutenant-Governor."

Mr. Snyder is strongly of the opinion that the direct primary law, passed by a Progressive Governor, is sadly in need of amending, a lamentable fact that was made clearly evident at the recent primary election. In speaking of the law Snyder says:

"Not one person in ten understands the present direct primary law, while the election officers all over the State showed themselves unables to fathom its many complications, a fact that is apparent from the badly mixed-up election returns. That the law needs amending there is no gainsaying. Even Governor Johnson now tells the people it should be non-partisan, in which I agree with him. It is certainly a farce of a law that permits members of one party to seek and purloin other party nominations and so confuse the average voter that he votes blindly, not knowing who is who, so I say we may as well erase the party designation and make it a free-for all scramble, just as we now vote for judicial, school and county officers.

"But if we are to have political parties, amend the law so that a party candidate can receive only the nomination of the party he is registered with, or else make it entirely non-partisan by wiping out the party designation. However, there was method in the madness of the Progressive chiefs when they framed the iniquitous primary law, because they thought the people would fall all over themselves to register as Progressives, thus laying the foundation for a powerful party machine.

"When the registration figures showed the Progressives to be in third place, instead of first, as they had fondly dreamed, the Progressive politicians were the very first to step out of their bounds in a wild scramble for other party nominations, thus demonstrating their inconsistency, evident fear of defeat, and readiness to accept nominations from parties they would destroy, all for the lust of office. And all this in face of the fact that if there is any one political party that prides itself on the principles it represents it should be the Progressives.

"The featute of the law requiring so many signatures to get on the ballot is not only disgusting to the voter, who is pestered to death with registration deputies, but it does not give a fair show to the poor man.

"The Republicans, in particular, have certainly been handed a plentitude of political buncombe during the past two years by these Progressive politicians, who hold themselves up as the saviors of the State. Two years ago the Republicans were denied the right to vote for Taft for President, but many thousands of Republicans very properly resented this slap in the face by voting for Wilson, in which they did not make a mistake, as recent events have proven.

"At the August primary the Republicans had four registered Republicans as candidates for Lieutenant-Governor, but along came Progressive Eshelman, hiding behind the confusing primary law, and through a minority Republican vote, due to the four regular Republicans dividing the majority vote, received the nomination of a party he is out today denouncing.

"Now the Republican party, the dominant party in California, is confronted with the unprecedented situation of having its nominee for Lieutenant-Governor out campaigning against the election of its candidate for Governor, a situation brought about through the machinations of a primary law enacted by a Progressive administration. But the Republicans have one solace. They will have the same recourse in November they had two years ago. They chose well two years ago. They have an opportunity of doing so again.

"TARIFF IS MAIN ISSUE"--KNOWLAND

Senatorial Candidate Gives a Remarkable Analysis of Political Situation in State and Nation

BY JOSEPH R. KNOWLAND.
(Republican Nominee for United States Senator.)

Of the 1,099,440 who were entitled to vote at the recent primaries, 472,677 registered as straight Republicans, 236,982 as Democrats and 214,022 as Progressives. The Republican registration, therefore, lacked but 1287 of doubling the Democratic. It was 34,633 more than double that of the Progressives, and 21,673 more than Democratic and Progressive combined.

The primary vote preserved the ratios, so that the registration is an unmistakable indication of the political temper of California.

The primary election was not swayed by specific issues. There was one general issue, to wit: Republican policies versus Democratic.

For a year and a half Democratic policies had prevailed; before that for sixteen years Republican policies had dominated State and nation, succeeding four years of Democratic control which were characterized by panic and depression and from which the country was five years in emerging.

Coming into power again the Democratic party has caused California to cry "Enough!" in a brief eighteen months.

In my analysis of the Democratic tariff bill and its bearing upon Californian interests, I showed from reliable statistics the extent and value of many California products. Take the citrus industry, involving investment of $200,000,000. The cut in the duty on lemons is about 1 cent per pound, varying as to packages. This is shown to benefit growers in countries where labor is had at from 20 to 60 cents a day, as against those of California, where labor is $2 to $3 per day.

I presented statistics as to the extent and status of other California industries—beet sugar, with its thirteen California factories, $14,000,000 product, $6,701,582 annual outlay to farmers and $3,900,000 to labor; raisins, with a 155,300,000 pound product, and tariff reduction of 1 cent; olives, with a product of $7,500,000, and a reduction of 20 cents a gallon on oil; beans, with an annual crop value of $7,000,000, and reduction from 45 to 25 cents per bushel of 60 pounds; walnuts and almonds, with a crop of 33,000,000 pounds, and a duty reduction of 1 cent per pound; honey, a great and distinctive industry; lumber; figs, whose production on this continent is confined exclusively to California.

Although the tariff has been in working order but about six months there are ample statistics to justify the Republican prophecies.

I consider the tariff to be the main political issue. But the Republican party can justly appeal to the country on its general record of progress and patriotism. The building of the Panama canal was a Republican policy, though the policy of the party now in power has taken from the great enterprise some of the benefits that should accrue.

The Federal effort to curb monopolies and preserve the powers of government to the masses is a Republican policy. The Sherman law was the first great step in this direction. The Republican party policy was to enact laws intended to curb monopolistic tendencies, but not to lay embargo upon legitimate industry and trade. It was to inspire confidence in worthy commercial effort, not to chill enterprise by uncertainty and apprehension.

I have said the Panama canal project was a Republican policy. In this connection I am glad to be on record as lending a hand to legislation preventing it becoming a monopolistic aid. It seems to be allowable to recall that I led the fight for the provision that ships owned by continental railroads which compete with their rail lines for traffic should be denied its use. One of the pleasant incidents of that fight was the warm commendation I received from Attorney Thelen of the California State Railroad Commission. Under date of March 30, 1912, he wrote me:

"I wish to express to you the thanks of the other commissioners and myself for the fine work you are doing on this bill." Under date of May 22, 1912, he again wrote: "According to the newspapers of this morning you have been successful in your efforts in reference both to railroad owned and steamships and free tolls. I wish to congratulate you heartily on the work which you have done in this connection."

In this campaign, and in all situations, I stand upon my record. There have been no measures commendably affecting this State, or any part of it, before Congress that I have not favored.

On general lines I have actively supported legislation aimed at the white slave traffic, and championed the cause of equal suffrage, which was not always a popular cause to espouse. I have always advocated an army and navy adequate to maintain the peace and dignity of the nation. We are seeing that in the present state of international comity this safeguard is wise in the extreme.

SUBSIDIZED PRESS HELPING JOHNSON

Appointed Twenty-two Editors and Newspaper Writers to Fat Jobs to Aid Him to Stay In Office

Commenting on recent speeches of Governor Johnson, in which the executive has sought to convince the voters that he has not used the power and influence of his office to build up a political machine, Walter R. Bacon, chairman of the Republican State Central Executive Committee, said yesterday that such statements on the part of Johnson were so palpably a misrepresentation of the facts, that he deemed it necessary, in fairness to the rank and file of the citizens of the State, to whom the real facts in such matters are usually inaccessible, to call attention to some of the ramifications of the Johnson "system."

"It is a matter of general information that Johnson has constructed one of the most ruthless political machines this country has ever known," said Bacon, "but the average person is without detailed knowledge of its workings. Every one knows that never in the history of the State has the appointive power of the Governor been so much abused; never has there been such wholesale distribution of important public offices as political rewards for past activity or as an incentive to future political work.

A Government by One Man.

California has had for the last three and a half years a government of, by, and for one man; and that man has had but one thought in mind, has sought the accomplishment of but one object, i. e., the furthering of his own political ambitions. Every person who is, directly or remotely, connected with the present administration, is a servant of Johnson, not of the people. From the heads of the highest commissions to the lowliest janitor, appointments have been made with service to Johnson the consideration, instead of service to the State.

"It is incumbent upon the Republican party to rid the State of this oppressive and expensive machine, as it has been the lot of that party to cleanse California of other forms of political evil. However, in dealing with Johnson, it has no novice, but an adroit juggler of words and facts, whose selfish ambition permits him to stop at nothing, not even the bartering of the honor of he Republican party, which elected him, for the vice-presidential nomination of a third party, which, having sprouted like a mushroom overnight, is now wilting away after a brief ephemeral existence.

"True to the instincts of a self-centered egotist, Johnson has succeeded in lining up the support of a portion of the press of the State by methods peculiarly his own. Realizing the power wielded by the newspapers, those potent molders of public opinion, he has scattered appointments among newspaper editors and proprietors with a lavish hand. Indeed, he has carried this part of the construction of his machine so far that the names of the holders of the principal appointive officers of the present administration look like a directory of the third party newspapers of the State.

Calling the Roll.

"For the information of the people generally, so that they may have some idea of the extent of the Johnson organization, a list of newspaper men who are now holding office under Johnson's administration, and who are not only supporting and defending him in their papers, but are, in many instances, stumping the State for him, is herewith appended:

Chester H. Rowell, Fresno Republican, Panama-Pacific Exposition Commission.

George C. Pardee, Oakland Enquirer, Conservation Commission.

Ralph W. Bull, Humboldt Times (Eureka), Conservation Commission.

John S. Chambers, Sacramento Bee, State Controller.

V. S. McClatchy, Sacramento Bee, Reclamation Board.

MR. and Mrs. J. B. PARRENT.

Joe Berry for Assessor a Strong Candidate.

Polsley for Member State Board of Equalization

As candidate for member of the State Board of Equalization for the Third District, I wish to call attention to the importance of the office to the taxpayer.

The Board must assess companies, banks and corporations. It will be seen that they will be very much interested in the membership of this board.

Governor Johnson in his First Biennial Message, speaking of the present tax system, mentions the fact that it was favored by the representatives of the various public service corporations.

While I have nothing to say derogatory of my opponent, who has been a member of the State Board of Equalization for the last eight years still I believe that tax system was almost forced on the people by the present State Board of Equalization.

Under this system the corporations only pay tax on their incomes while the ordinary citizen must pay whether he have income or not.

And when dull times mean less business corporations pay proportionately less taxes.

Again they pay no local or special taxes for public improvement, and while they share the benefits, others pay the cost.

And it is now proposed to take more property from the local assessment rolls for state purposes.

Based on a cash valuation of their property, corporations pay an average of a little over one per cent. By this time the citizen tax payer will know what his rate will be, but the average throughout the state is over two per cent. when county, city and special taxes are considered. In some places in this district it is over four per cent.

During my six years in the Legislature as member of the Committee on Revenue and Taxation, I have made a special study of the problems of taxation, and during this time have visited every part of the state.

As one of the leaders of the Progressive, I have assisted in the framing and passing of the reform laws now in the statutes.

But I am perhaps more widely known for my demand for the reform and investigation of the Fish and Game Commission, and for more just game laws.

While a Democrat and in favor of the policies of President Wilson I have never, nor do I intend to, ask any favor of any party organization, but if elected expect to serve the interests of the common people as I have tried to do in the past.

MR. RAMAGE FOR TREASURER

It is seldom that the people have a chance to elect a man who is so thoroughly qualified to fill an important office as James W. Ramage is to fill the county treasurer's office. This is an office that requires the services of a man that is thorough in detail work. An office of vast responsibilities being the custodian of all the finances of the county. The campaign that Mr. Ramage is making is one that recommends him strongly for that position. He is meeting the people every day and talking matters over with them and getting acquainted. His ability to fill the office is acknowledged to be of the highest order. For years Mr. Ramage has had experience along the lines required to make a good treasurer. Having been identified with the business interest of this county for many years, always working for its development, it is not surprising that from every section of the county comes the word that he is going to run strong.

APPALLING INCREASE IN STATE PAY ROLL

Records Show 6000 Employes Under Johnson at an Added Yearly Cost to People of $2,298,228.60

For the benefit of men and women who, from a business, rather than a political standpoint, are interested in knowing what manner of government California has been getting under the alleged economical administration of the so-called "Progressive Party," some figures have been compiled from the official records in the state capitol at Sacramento which show the astounding price the people have paid for inefficiency.

Analyzing the records in the cold light of business, it appears that the only efficiency demonstrated by Governor Johnson and his "personal service" brigade has been the construction of a political machine the like of which has never been seen in this or any other country. With an annual pay-roll of $5,645,008.08, and with arbitrary power over the distribution each year of $5,000,000 of the people's money in the form of patronage and supplies, some idea can be had of the power of the administration machine. The menace of this organization becomes more appalling when it is seen to have exclusive control of $18,000,000 more for state highways and $9,000,000 for San Francisco Harbor improvements.

Pay-Roll Enormous.

It took Hiram Johnson but a brief three and a half years to build his political structure to its present proportions. Between January, 1911, when he entered office, and June, 1914, he increased the state pay-roll from $3,346,779.48 a year to $5,645,008.08, and the number of state employees from about 4230 to approximately 6000. Every one of the 6000 is an active worker for the perpetuation of this machine and the re-election of Governor Johnson. Service to Johnson has been made the prime consideration instead of service to the state.

There is distributed in salaries each month to these 6000 soldiers of the army of the Lord almost $475,000. in view of which there is nothing strange in the present frenzied efforts of "Progressive" job-holders to secure Johnson's re-election.

Machine Powerful.

It costs the people of California in the increase in annual salary roll alone $2,298,228.60 for the privilege of having Hiram Johnson as Governor. This is an increase in three years and six months of 73.5 per cent.

Since Johnson entered the office the pay-roll has been increasing by leaps and bounds. Under Governor Gillett the December, 1910, pay-roll was $278,898.29; under Hiram Johnson the June, 1914, pay-roll was $470,417.34, an increase of $191,519.05. The expenditure of $5,000,000 additional each year for department and institutional supplies and various other governmental necessities, with its subsequent political obligations and influence, make up another element in the construction of Johnson's extraordinary machine.

Coupled with this is the $18,000,000 voted for state highways and $9,000,000 authorized for San Francisco water front improvements. The political value attached to the disbursement of $27,000,000 is obvious. When contracts for material and labor are let the "right" way political support is thus gained.

Another section of the machine is made up of 31 newspaper publishers, editors and writers in the state's service, most of them holding lucrative positions. Johnson has recruited these editors to aid him in whitewashing his wasteful and extravagant administration. Fake news, fake figures and facts are furnished these papers to print, and they are printed, the editors or publishers knowing that if such matter is not used to fool the people, their graft will be ended. Consequently they never fail to take program.

Comparison Bad for Johnson.

Legislative expenditures in California for the last sixteen years have aggregated $92,537,577.78. Of this grand total 39.6 per cent, or $36,699,827.45 has been appropriated in four years by Governor Hiram Johnson's machine.

The Legislative expenditures of the 1913 session, made under Hiram Johnson's approval, totaled $20,140,628.79. From 1911 to 1913, which included the regular 1911 session and the special session late in 1911, the Johnson machine appropriations were $16,559,198.86.

In marked contrast to this wild and riotous extravagance with the public money that has featured Johnson's term as Governor, is the four-year record left by former Governor James M. Gillett, immediate predecessor of Johnson from 1907 to 1911.

The combined total of legislative expenditures during Governor Gillett's four-year term aggregated $24,766,077.77, or $11,933,746.68 less than it has cost California taxpayers under the domination of Johnson machine rule for a similar period.

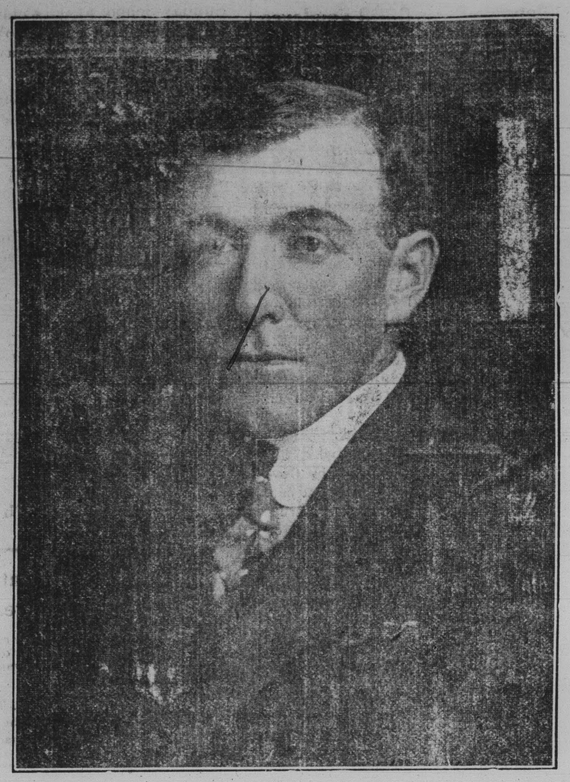
Joseph F. Ryan Our Candidate For Sheriff



As the campaign draws to a close, the friends of Jos. F. Ryan are rallying to his support, in the endeavor to elect him to the office of Sheriff of Sonoma County an office which his friends seek for him because of his sixteen years of service as Deputy Sheriff, in which he established a record for absolute fearlessness, and success as a sleuth unequalled in California, and because of his high moral worth.

The Index-Tribune does not believe it necessary to re-iterate the many noteworthy captures effected, single-handed, by Officer Ryan which comprises the most remarkable and commendable record ever achieved by a Deputy Sheriff in the criminal annals of California.

It is not necessary to recount again how Officer Ryan, taxed by repeated "break-ins" of the railway depot here, established at his own expense a burglar alarm, a week thereafter arresting and convicting E. Nixon, who forcibly entered the station; and, of how at two o'clock on Christmas morning of 1913, Ryan's depot alarm routed him out of bed, and of how, despite the fact that he heard the muffled report which announced the blowing up of the safe, he entered the building ALONE and later convicted the depot burglar, Jack Bragg; of the case of D. P. Cazet, who barricaded himself in a room at Schellville, and with a loaded shotgun (whose charge would have entered the bowels of the person entering) pointed at the door, was taken by Ryan who kicked in the door, and with lightning rapidity wrested the gun from and maraded his prisoner, who was later convicted. Voters have not forgotten Ryan's remarkable bravery in the case of Alfred de Alfredo, captured in Los Angeles for burglary. Feigning illness throughout the night, Alfredo, after continuous trip to the lavatory, effected escape through the window, at two o'clock a. m., when crossing the Mohave Desert. In an instant, the officer JUMPED FROM the MOVING TRAIN, and captured his man before dawn. Just a few weeks ago, Ryan was called to the State Hospital at Eldride, to arrest a discharged employe, who had armed himself with a revolver and defied the officer. Ryan broke into the room, and after a desperate encounter, in which his hands were badly cut with the gun, he secured his man. So we could recount cases innumerable of wonderful daring, but we believe Ryan's record as an officer is sufficiently known.

Now, then, as to Ryan—the MAN.

To no man, in any official capacity whatsoever, has a finer, more complete testimonial been given than the endorsement which appears below, and which bears the signatures of representatives of every civic and educational body, fraternities and men and women in leading official and business capacities.

Voters of Sonoma County, read the appended and admit that, whether our candidate for Sheriff—brave, splendid Joe Ryan—comes out victorious or goes down to defeat, he may be proud of the character and strength of the support given him by his Sonoma Valley friends, and these friends, in turn, are proud of the clean, manly, high principled campaign waged by him:

The voters of Sonoma County are rightly demanding of the candidates who are now seeking election, that they must be men who will prove faithful in the performance of the duties of the office to which they aspire, and that they must be men temperate in habits and morally beyond reproach—men who will conduct themselves at all times in a manner to command the respect and confidence of the people whom they serve.

Especially do the people demand these qualifications of the man who aspires to the office of Sheriff of Sonoma County, an office carrying with it great responsibilities and vast opportunities for public service.

We of Sonoma Valley know—and many of us from an acquaintance of twenty years or more—that Joe Ryan, candidate for Sheriff, is a man possessing these qualifications. We know him as a man whose integrity and sobriety are unquestioned; whose courageous and fearless conduct in the discharge of his duties as Deputy Sheriff throughout twelve years of service, is unparalleled in our State. We know him and respect him for his kindly and genial manner, and for his fair and impartial treatment of all, regardless of sect or belief.

We endorse his candidacy, strong in our confidence and faith in his ability to at all times perform his duty, and we hope that these words of commendation, coming as they do from the undersigned, who have known him the greater part of his life, will be sufficient evidence to refute and set at rest statements that are being made calculated to put him in an unfavorable light before the voters of this county.

We trust that Sonoma County will not be denied the services of this man whose ability, whose integrity and whose sobriety we vouch for.

J. C. "Hoke" Smith in the Race for Assessor.

The office of County Assessor is one of the most important and responsible in the affairs of Sonoma county, says the Healdsburg Enterprise: More of the people of the county come in touch with this office than with any other office. The proper administration of this office more directly affects and benefits each taxpayer than the administration of any othea office. It is apparent than that the County Assessor should be possessed nbt only of a careful, conservative judgement, and a sense of absolute impartiality and justice, but also a full knowledge of property values and a training in the fixing of such values gained by actual contact and experience. It is impossible for a person without thorough knowledge of property conditions and the fullest experience in the work of adjusting values to make equal and fair assessments.

Taking into consideration these requirements, the candidacy of J. C. Hoke Smith presents himself with strong favor to the voters of the county, for he fully measures up to the standard required of an able and competent Assessor. Mr. Smith has spent all his life in this county and is alive to all its interests and acquainted with all its conditions. He is known throughout the county for his quiet, unassuming manner, his devotion to his work and his upright character. He has devoted sixteen years of an active life to the work of the office of County Assessor. For two years he served as chief office deputy under Wm. Longmore, and on the election of Mr. Frank E. Dowd to that office Mr. Smith was retained in the same position and continued to serve Mr. Dowd in that capacity for fourteen years until the lamented death of the latter in 1912. Mr. Smith is eminently qualified for the position and the office of Assessor will be safe in his hands.

INDEX FOR JOB WORK

SLATER FOR STATE SENATOR

Assemblyman Herbert W. Slater was in town, Tuesday, greeting on every hand friends loyal and true, for no man in the county stands higher in the estimation of the Sonoma Valley people than the gifted young newspaper man, who has given to his constituents in this district service in the Legislature that demands recognition and reward at the hands of the voters of Sonoma County, irrespective of party affiliations.

The voters have not lost sight of the splendid service rendered this assembly district by its representave, and from every section the friends of Mr. Slater are rallying to his support.

Mr Slater is a candidate for the office of State Senator, a position for which his two terms in the lower House of the Legislature have fitted him It is conceded, with the important issues that are likely to confront the next session of the California Legislature, Sonoma County should have a strong, experienced man as its representative in the upper house. In his legislative career as the Assemblyman from this district he has always proved himself loyal to the interests of Sonoma County and its industries and has at no time swerved from the people's cause. Although elected as a Democrat he proved in both sessions of the Legislature that he possessed a broadness of mind and purpose that showed him to be a representative of all the people.

Sonoma and the Sonoma Valley are particularly friendly to Mr. Slater's candidacy. They remember what he did for the Bear Flag Monument and the restoration of the Old Mission here. Mr. Slater not only carried the bills through both houses of the Legislature but led the fight in their behalf right through to a successful issue. This is an old story for Sonoma people, however; they have not forgotten this and on Tuesday they will accord him a handsome vote which will testify to their appreciation. And should he be fortunate in securing his election to the State Senate, Mr. Slater can be relied upon to carry on the good work for Sonoma County and the State at large. The farmers, the viticulturists, the poultry and stock raisers and all branches of industry have in Mr. Slater a firm friend.

VOTE "NO" ON INITIATIVE NO. 46

"The Drugless Dealer Act," initiative measure No. 46 on the election ballot to be voted for Nov. 3d, is nothing less than a crime; it has been put on the ballot largely through misrepresentation to those who signed the initiative petition. It would license anyone who has practiced any sort of drugless healing for six months previous; chiropodists, barbers, masseurs, etc., and without any consideration of education, good moral character, etc. All this horde of ignorant, illiterate quacks and worse would be authorized to use the designation "Dr" and to call themselves "doctor."

They may not prescribe medicines, but they may do any sort of a surgery; they may not give an ointment for a sore arm, but they may cut it off.

They are authorized to sign birth and death certificates and any other public certificates or documents required to be signed by a doctor.

It would not directly hurt the medical profession but it would be a calamity to the public who cannot discriminate between unknown people when they are all called alike "doctor."

There would be no way for the innocent, sick stranger to know whether he was calling in a quack or a regular physician, and he would be the sufferer.

If the initiative is carried at the election, it becomes a law without further action by the legislature; the matter will be settled on Nov. 3rd, at the polls. Initiative No. 46 should be voted down by the people for their own protection.

E. H. Hart's Wife and Twin Babies

[Special Dispatch to the Sonoma Index Tribune]

Eureka, Cal., Oct. 28—Judge J. A. Barham and E. H. Hart held the largest meeting that Eureka has seen this campaign at Armory Hall this evening. It was practically the close of the Republican campaign in this city and as large as the hall is it wasn't sufficient to contain all who came out to hear the speakers. Judge Barham made a vigorous speech, analyzing the record of Congressman Kent and pointing out how he had tried to secure the nominations of all parties and had been repudiated by all. He called attention to former Senator Caminetti's repudiation of Kent in the name of the Wilson administration because he had spent $5,000 to defeat Congressman Raker and $5,000 more to defeat James D. Phelan, both Democrats, and yet Kent is trying to secure Democratic support for his own aspirations. "Are the Democrats going to repudiate their party by sending such a man to Congress to represent them?" asked Barham, and the hall rang with "No."

Phelan has many supporters in this section and Kent's efforts to defeat him with Heney will be bitterly resented.

When Hart rose to speak he was applauded for several minutes and the audience gave every evidence of being for him. He dwelt upon national issues. After his remarks he held a reception, nearly all present crowding up to shake his hand and assure him of their support.

It is estimated he will have 1,000 majority over Kent in Humboldt county.

A Letter From Chas. F. Fury for Senator

I ask for your voters for the office of State Senator in this County upon the following platform:

1st. A protective tariff. The dairymen, poultrymen, farmers, sheepmen and the industries of Sonoma County have been afflicted by the cheap foreign products admitted free of duty. The election of a legislature favorable to a protective tariff will serve notice on all parties that the people of this state are opposed to free trade and thus aid the protective tariff principle in our government.

2nd. To advocate a policy which will build up our National Merchant Marine.

3rd. Strict economy in the administration of State affairs.

4th. Fewer laws: We are governed too much. The happiest, most prosperous people are those having few, simple laws, easily understood. The present ballot demonstrates the tangle of laws into which the State may be plunged.

5th. The large revenue derived from auto taxes to be entirely expended for good roads in the various counties. Under the present law only one-half of the net amount derived from such taxes is so expended.

6th. All State Bureaus, Commissions and public servants should be prevented from "doing politics." No State officer should be allowed conpensation for services when not engaged in the performance of his duties.

7th. It is proposed to destroy party organizations and party government. I am opposed to this proposition. It is the subtle, entering wedge of Socialism

8th. I am opposed to the universal eight hour law and other Socialistic doctrines. Any candidate seeking office as a Socialist must favor this doctrine. I do not.

9th. A strict investigation of the expenditure of all public fu to be conducted by a non-partisan board, reporting thereon direct to the people.

10th. The election, rather than the appointment, of chiefs of bureaus, heads of important commissions and chief administrative offices. The power of appointment makes possible the organization of a dangerous political machine.

11th. Fair and equal treatment for all classes. The heavy den of taxation should be cut down as much as possiblo.

12th. The revision and reconstruction of the Direct Primary law so as to moke it less burdensome to the tax payers, less complicated and so that it will serve the purpose for whion it was intended, the nomination of candidates for Partisan office BY PARTIES.

If my platform meets with your approval, I trust that you will cast your ballot in my favor.

Respectfully,
CHARDES F. FURY

THE QUESTION OF

State-Wide PROHIBITION

California Has More at Stake Than Any State in the Union

The men behind the prohibition movement are getting more active every day. They are spreading their gratuitous assertions far and wide. From the pulpit and the rostrum, on billboards and in newspapers they are exhorting the people of California to vote their state dry. Realizing that California has more at stake than has been sacrificed by any other state for the impotent "dry" cause, the Prohibition agitators never fail to discuss the economic question involved, but they discuss it only to belittle it. They would have people believe that there has been much exaggeration as to the property losses that will be suffered in the event of the adoption of the Statewide Prohibition Amendment. Now the truth is that so many are the interests threatened with extinction by this amendment that is utterly impossible for anyone to make an approximate estimate of the amount of loss which the Prohibitionists would inflict. The industries imperiled are not merely those which are reckoned in the calculations of the average citizen. It is supposed that Californians are especially concerned about the wine industry. This is but one of several industries now under the menace of prohibition. There are seventy-five breweries in California, representing an investment, in round numbers, of $50,000,000, and helping to consume many state products and to support several industries. The breweries employ four thousand men and pay about $6,000,000 annually in wages. They contribute in taxes to Federal, state, county and municipal governments, $2,350,000 annually, which would have to be gathered from other sources if the state went dry.

15,000 People Employed

There are 15,000 people employed in hop raising in this state. The value of the hop crop is $4,000,000 and virtuelly all of the hops are consumed by our breweries. Our annual barley crop is sold for $30,000,000. Sixty-five per cent of our barley is consumed by breweries in this and other states. If we adodt the prohibition amendment the breweries of the country will boycott our barley.

85,000,000 Invested

According to Prohibitionists, only a small part of the grapes grown in California are consumed in our wineries. The truth about the matter is that prohibition would affect the whole grape growing industry and the raisin industry as well, all representing an investment of $85,000,000. All would be affected because prohibition would destroy the market for the second crop of the principal varieties of rasin grapes and table grapes, which are used for distilling brandy.

45,000,000 Gallons Wine

To appreciate the importance of viticulture it must be considered under a two-fold aspect: As an agricultural industry and as the fondation of one of our principal manufactures. Last year we manufactured 42,000,000 gallons of wine, the value of which was approximately $15,000,000. Now, consider the enormity of the calamity that would befall us were the viticultural inteaests in their variety to be wiped out. The State Viticultural Commission estimates that 15,000 heads of families, including lessees and renters, are engaged in viticulture in California. This means, of course, that many thousands of families are supported by viticulture. Large communities have sprung up in grape-growing centers that depend almost entirely upon the vineyards and their products for existence. It is estimated that over $10,000,000 was spent on labor in the vineyards of this state last year, which is probably far from exaggeration, considering that 20,000 men are employed in pruning vines; 10,000 in plowing harrowing, spraying and irrigating, and 30,000 in harvesting. And when the grape goes to the winery it creates a demand for more labor. In the 700 wineries of this state there are 5,000 men employed. The total amount of wages paid is $6,000,000 a year.

This great labor market the Prohibitionists would destroy; also the one connected with the brewery industry, and at the same time they would ravish our barley farms and hop fields. Nor is this all. In the industrial cataclysm is to disappear the cooperage industry, an investment of $2,000,000; also the glassware factories that supply our breweries and wineries with bottles. And, of course, the saloon must go which is a prospect, by the way, which greatly grieves the men engaged in the mineral water industry. These men the Prohibitionists affect to be eager to help, but the men who have mineral water to sell are as opposed to prohibition as the brewer and the wine man; so, too, are the manufacturers of "soft drinks." The mineral water and "soft drink" industries represent an investment of $8,000,000, but they will represent a great deal less if the saloon is put out of business.

Saloons Not All Bad

There are other folks who do not regard the saloons as wholly wicked. These are the folks engaged in the dairy business, the manfacturers of cheese. It is in the saloon that the great bulk of cheese manufactured in California is consumed. Cheese is an article of food which the people of some nationalities would never eat at their meals if they had no beer or wine to drink. Of the 58 counties in this state, 29 produce cheese, and and last year 5,600,972 pounds of cheese were manufactured in California.

Other Industries Affected

Among the other industries which prohibition would seriously affect are those that specialize in the by-products of brewing and wine making, such as the manufacture of cream of tarter and those that manufacture articles of equipment for wineries and breweries. There is also the infant rice-growing industry of California, which markets a considerable part of its crop to our breweries.

Injury Would be Permanent.

Now, who is able to conceive the enormity of the ecconomic revolution to be wrought in California if Prohibitionists be given their head? Assuredly the confusion that would follow would be felt in every community. If its only effect was to throw a hundred thousand men out of employment and impoverish innumerable families that would be a prospect sufficient to give us pause, but it is evident enough that its evil effects would ramify the whole state, without compensation either moral or economic. According to one of the monthly letters of the Anglo & London Paris National Bank, "the values which is proposed to obliterate can hardly be less than $200,000,000," which coincident with depriving many thousands of families of their means of support, would have serious financial consequences.

Taxes Would Be Higher

And what about the effect on every taxpayer in California. The Governor of West Virginia says that as a result of the adoption recently of prohibition in that state, the revenues of the state have fallen off $700,000, and the money must be raised "by taxing natural resources." But West Virginia lost no great industries such as are threatened with the strangulation in California. Prohibition in West Virginia ment nothing but the closing of saloons that paid a license and the opening of blind pigs that pay nothing but blackmail.
